1. Read the following passage and answer the questions given below : 10
- Habits are easily formed especially bad ones, such as overeating, drinknig and smoking. Once formed, they are difficult to get rid of. Idleness and overwork are also matters of habit. Bad habits must be fought against. They should not be allowed to be formed, and when formed, one should try to give them up at all costs. The habit of consuming tobacco is one of the most widespred and most harmful habits. None has claimed any good for it. Again, more harmful than this is the drinking habit. Alcohol of any kind is a poison, even if taken in small quantities. Drinking is universal in cold countries, under the false notion that it is a necessity. Millions of people have begun to do entirely without it, with great advantage to their health and wealth. Such bad habits must be given up.
